NUMBER 15

ALBANY LIONS have installed the cross on Albany Hill for Christmas and expect it to be lit by tonight.

HENRY VILLA is in intensive care at Herrick hospital following a 14-hour operation. At this writing, he is holding his own. Henry, a brother of Joe Villa, formerly owned a Studebaker agency here and is now retired.

YOU'D NEVER have guessed, but Friday is the first day of winter!

RONNIE LOGAN of 604 San Carlos Ave., is playing live Santa for children again this year. Drop by his house. We hear he's passing out candy canes.

M-M-MERRY Christmas. Have you ever been so cold for the jolly Yule season? The biting wind and low, low temperatures are very un-Californiaish.

Albany Bowl Collecting Toys This Week

Toys in workable order are being collected at Albany Bowl in a Toys for Tots project conducted by the U.S. Marine Corps and sponsored by Brunswick and Ponderosa Paper Company.

The toys need not be gift-wrapped and they may be used, Manager George Shaber said.

A box for the toys has been set up in the middle of the lobby. It will be there through Dec. 23.

More Burglaries Reported Here

Albany police have a candidate for the "meanest thief" following the burglarizing of $1,025 in items from a nearly blind employee of the Orientation Center Dec. 14.

Ardyth R. Kenoyer of 914 Kains reported the loss of radio, two typewriters, tape recorder, Braille writer, dictating machine, electric broom, records, costume jewelry, heirloom pendant watch, carved figurines, clothes, suitcase and attache case.

The same day, Stanley Bonie of 1260 Brighton reported $85 worth of his clothing had been stolen from a dryer, and Christmas lights were taken at 616 Santa Fe.

On Dec. 11, John Myers of 513 Pomona reported the theft of a tool box worth $140 from his truck.

OPEN LETTERS TO ALBANY

I wish to thank all you citizens of Albany who sent cards and well wishes to the servicemen overseas this year.

I know they were really appreciated by me and all the other guys over here.

It's always nice to get mail here and especially when you get 30 Christmas cards in one day. It's a wonderful feeling to know that people at home are thinking of us. Thank you again.

Storm Raises Havoc Here

The gale winds of Dec. 14 raised havoc in Albany.

Among police reports were a large plate glass window at Jim Woulfe Ford blown out, large window in vacant building at 518 San Pablo cracked, sign at Super Stop market, 747 San Pablo Ave., blown apart and scattered, aluminum awning down at 710 Tabot, awning torn away at American Florist, tree blown down at Curtis and Solano, high voltage wire down at Portland and Key Route Blvd., and wires down in the 800 block of Masonic.

In addition to the high winds, the temperature was rib-chilling. By the weekend, it had warmed up and was raining.

Yule Party

Good Old St. Nick, with his sack of gifts will visit the Alameda Air Station Officers Club on Wednesday, Dec. 20.

The Soroptimist Club of Albany will have their Christmas party, starting at 6:30 p.m. for "Was-sail Bowt", and dinner at 7:30.

Freda Hanelt, Head of Health Nurses, is chairman. She and her husband will host the affair.

Cornell School Dedicated to Milton D. Gordon

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education Dec. 12, formal action was taken dedicating Cornell school to the memory of Milton D. Gordon.

In a letter from Mrs. Anthony Vavaro, President of the Cornell PTA addressed to the Board, she called attention to the action of the Executive Board in desiring to place a picture of Mr. Gordon and a commemorative plaque in the lobby of the school.

In the motion of dedication, authorization was granted the Cornell PTA to place a suitable picture and plaque and the offer gratefully accepted in honor of the memory of Milton Gordon, who literally gave his life for the children and youth of the Cornell school community.

Many Brave Cold To Attend Tree Dedication

The dedication for Albany's giant community Christmas tree on the Rapid Transit overhead last Tuesday was a successful event despite the bone-chilling cold wind.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with Past President Joe Dagna as master of ceremonies, the program featured remarks by President William A. Johnson, Mayor Richard O. Clark and BART Director George Silliman. The Albany High school a cappella choir, directed by Stephen Lehmer, sang Christmas selections.

Santa Claus (Jack Lucas of 816 Kains) distributed candy canes to children attending.

Visitors were invited to go to Key Route Blvd. and Solano to see the new nativity scene purchased for the city by Albany Inter Club council.

It was noted that John Pleich donated one third of the cost of the beautiful Christmas tree, the only one along the entire BART route.

Wilbert Sanders Receives $100 Award for Action

MAYOR Richard Clark, Fire Captain Raul Miranda, Wilbert Sanders, Berkeley-Albany-Kensington Postmaster George Kohler.

Wilbert Sanders, veteran letter carrier, was commended Wednesday by Albany Mayor Richard Clark, Captain Raul Miranda of the Albany Fire Department and Postmaster George Kohler when Sanders was presented a $100 award for service beyond the call of duty in which he prevented a fire in the home of one of the residents of his delivery route in Albany.

Sanders, a veteran Albany postal employee, on Oct. 28, 1967, while delivering mail at 848 Jackson Street, Albany, noticed smoke coming out of the mail slot when he attempted to place mail in the slot. He attempted to locate the residents with no success then went next door and called the Albany Fire Department who immediately responded. Firemen gained access through a rear window of the temporarily vacant home and discovered a smoldering fire created by painting tarpsaulins covering both furnace inlets and outlets. These were ready to burst into flame.

Fire Captain Miranda contacted the Albany Post Office to commend Mailman Sanders for his alert action, which greatly helped in avoiding what could have resulted in a large and most serious fire.

Note of Thanks

During the holiday season, I wish to thank everyone who has made it possible for me to ship more than 3,600 paperbacks to Subic Bay hospital for our hospitalized servicemen.

The hospital, which is near Manila, has about 3,000 patients who enjoy reading. I will continue to collect and ship paperback books to them. Thank you, one and all.

Masonic Petition Does Not Apply Today-Howell

Councilman Lewis Howell Monday night said the petition recently circulated on Masonic Avenue protesting formation of an assessment district for underground utilities does not apply today.

He said PG&E will underground utilities without charge, so the only costs now will be for connection and possibly street light poles.

Mayor Richard Clark appointed John R. Thompson of 816 Masonic to the Masonic Avenue committee. He announced that the mayor of Baltimore, Md., came to Albany last Saturday to view the aerial structure because they are thinking of rapid transit there. The visitor was impressed with the park and apparent upgrading of the residential area.

Orientation Center Causes Water Problems on Adams

Every time it has rained since the Orientation Center for the Blind was completed, yards in the 300 block of Adams are inundated, Don Butts of 506 Adams told City Councilmen Monday night.

Butts said he has suffered very extensive property damage from as much as a foot of water standing under his house, warping floors and causing the walls to mold.

He said that in Sunday night's rain, there was about eight inches of water covering the Orientation parking lot and spilling into his yard.

Butts filed a claim against the state earlier, but it was denied. Then he said he planned to file in small claims court, but was told the statute of limitations against a state agency is only six months, as compared to three years for others.

Councilmen were told by Administrative Officer James B. Turner that the problem is caused by narrow grating, a culvert, which quickly becomes clogged with leaves and twigs and acts as a dam. He said he had questioned the grating when the Center was built but was told there would be a maintenance man on duty 24 hours daily to clean it out. Butts said the man leaves at 4:30 every day.

Turner said the state has promised to remove alternate bars on the grating but it is not adequately maintained.

Although the city has no legal responsibility in the matter, Council asked City Attorney Larry Saler to investigate legal means of forcing the state to provide a remedy and meanwhile will ask city crews to watch Adams street when it rains.

Another citizen complaint came from Garrie Thompson of 812 Cornell, who said dogs on his street were running loose and dirtying his yard. Turner said

Allen-Gerfen Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Gerfen
(Martha Lynn Allen)

November rites, performed by Rev. A. Oliveira of St. Jeome's Catholic church in El Cerrito, unite in marriage Marsha Lynn Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Norman Allen, and David Lee Gerfen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gerfen, all of Albany.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Marsha wore a gown of peau de sole with a hand-clipped chantilly lace empire bodice. Seed pearls embroidered the bell sleeves and chantilly lace appliqued the front of the skirt and the wattleau chapel train. The veil, made by the bride, was of bridal illusion attached to two organly and pearl roses. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow baby roses.

Cynthia Allen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pale yellow gown with empire lace bodice and crepe skirt with a detachable lace train. Her matching veil was attached to a single organly and pearl rose. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Best man for David was his father, while Dave de Luchi performed usher duties.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the wedding.

Both Marsha and David are 1965 Albany High school graduates.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds are at home in Albany.

Pacific Telephone's New Training Center Opens

Pacific Telephone's newest training facility has been established in the East Bay.

The new plant induction center is located at 6389 Christie Street in Emeryville.

Here, the basic telephone skills of installation, line work, cable splicing, safety, and many other detailed matters are taught in job-simulated surroundings.

Telephone poles for climbing classes were planted like trees in an orchard.

A complete manhole was constructed at the site for realism in linemen and splicing classes.

The modern training center makes ample use of films, lectures, slides and drawings for various aspects of the telephone job.

To get added realism, mockups of typical homes were developed, as was a seven-foot scale model of a residential-industrial street.

The overall design offers both work "lab" areas and classrooms within few steps of one another. Faculty at the school is recruited ed from field forces throughout the Bay Area, in order that the latest in training and technique be kept up to date. The basic courses for trainees average two weeks.

there is an ordinance against dogs running loose in parks and that he will call the matter to the attention of the pound man.

Mayor's Conference

Following a report of action at the last Mayors Conference by Mayor Richard O. Clark regarding the appointment of Berkeley

Mayor Wallace Johnson, to the BART board and the adoption of a policy that only elected officials can serve as appointees, Councilman Lewis Howell took issue with the conference.

"No reflection on you, Mayor," he said, "but the Mayors Conference is becoming the most political group in Alameda County . . . it's trying to run the whole county. . . . Appointments are becoming political footballs. The mayors should take matters back to the Councils. Thirteen people are doing all the business!"

Howell, one of the originators of the conference, said when George Silliman, Newark councilman, was appointed to BART, he had to resign his council post. (Permissive legislation later made it possible for him to return to council.) Under the new rules of the conference, the appointee must be a mayor or councilman.

"I think the people should demand a vote on BART directors," Howell said. Then to Clark, "You know the pressures put on the mayors when an appointment is to be made. It's more than for the next election for governor." Clark agreed, adding he was one of six who voted against the new policy.

Howell questioned whether the mayor of Berkeley is working in the best interests of the community inasmuch as Oakland and San Francisco subways are being paid from the bond issue and Berkeley taxpayers must pay for those and their own, too.

City Attorney Saler was asked to make a recommendation on the formation of a corporation of the Albany Land Fill company, on new arrangements adopted by

Bank of America for transfer of principal and interest, and to prepare an ordinance providing for removal of abandoned, wrecked, dismantled or inoperative vehicles.

Dr. Robert T. McMahon, health officer, received permission to transfer $70 to the vaccine and serum account.

Action was taken to accept work on Santa Fe, Key Route, Portland and Jackson, retaining 10 per cent of the total contract.

A public hearing will be held Jan. 8, which will be a formality, to make undergrounding of San Pablo Avenue official and in compliance with the new ordinance.

Two ordinances (see legal today) were passed to print and action on a third was held over for the first of the year. Councilmen voted to allocate funds to Leo A. Daly for parking and traffic analysis on San Pablo Avenue.

Councilman Joe Carlevaro was absent.

Under good of the city, Dario Meniketti wished everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, followed by similar greetings from Mayor Clark, who offered holiday greetings on behalf of the Council to the citizens of Albany and men serving in the armed forces. Next Council meetings will be Dec. 26 and Jan. 2.

William J. McKenna Heads '68 March of Dimes

William (Bill) McKenna and Chairman Madigan

William J. (Bill) McKenna of 970 Nelson St., office manager of Canada Dry, Berkeley division, which extends from the Canadian border to Fresno, is the 1968 March of Dimes chairman in Albany. Sheriff Frank Madigan has announced.

A native of San Francisco, he has lived in Alameda County almost all his life and in Albany 15 years. He is past president of Albany Republican Assembly; former member of the Traffic and Safety commission and Albany Library board; served on citizen committees for new city buildings and the school bond issue; was a member of the School Advisory committee and is a manager for Albany Little League.

McKenna and his wife, Helen, are the parents of Kathy, 13; Kevin, 11, and Richy, seven.

Proceeds from the January campaign will be used in the March of Dimes fight against birth defects, to support the Birth Defects Center at Children's Hospital Medical Center and to continue aid to polio patients afflicted before the discovery of vaccines.

The new chairman is now forming his committee and making plans for the fund drive.

NAZARETH YOUNG PEOPLE FIND NORMALCY AT 'Y'

As sporadic fighting continues in Israel, but many Jewish families live in the surrounding area. At the Y, they compete together in sports, join clubs and classes, serve as volunteer leaders, and enjoy the fun of the Y's summer day camp. This summer, despite the war—or perhaps because of it—Nazareth's Y held its biggest camp ever with 450 youngsters and 48 volunteer leaders taking part . . . a camp rated by the Israeli government as one of the best in the country.

Equally important, the YMCA in Nazareth provides one place in the city where Arabs and Jews can work and play together. Nazareth is itself one of the few predominately Arab communities in Israel.

Nazareth as a whole is a poor community. For its underprivileged youngsters particularly, the YMCA is a bright spot—a place to fill the emptiness of their days. For many Arab girls, brought up in the tradition that "women's place is in the home," the Nazareth YMCA has opened up a whole new world. At the Y, Arab girls have participated in public for the first time in sports, plays, and club programs.

Middle Eastern YMCAs were hard hit financially by the June war, Carhart said. For this reason, the Albany Y is participating in a special, continent-wide YMCA Middle East Emergency campaign for $271,000. Albany's goal is $75,000.

DENTAL HYGIENE OFFERS FUTURE FOR WOMEN

The field of dental hygiene is attracting widespread professional attention on the college level, according to the California Dental Hygiene Association.

The work of a dental hygienist is to clean teeth, X-ray, dental health education, and to assist the dentist.

Dental hygienists are employed in clean and well-lighted offices, schools, and public health facilities. Attractive salaries range from $1,000 or more per month, depending on the capability of the hygienist and the size of the dental practice. A degree in Dental Hygiene may be obtained only after two years of study on the junior college level. Those with family responsibilities can work part-time. Even those who would like to practice only one day a week will find work readily available. Those who have raised a family and wish to resume their careers can do so at any time. Dental hygienists are in demand regardless of age.

This field is completely limited to women; there are no men for competition. There are numerous job openings waiting for each hygienist. The shortage is evident in the East Bay, as it is throughout California. A person may qualify for such work by obtaining an Associate of Arts degree in this field. The University of California offers a four-year curriculum which leads to a Bachelor of Science degree in Dental Hygiene. Now is the time to orient one's studies in order to fulfill the requirements to apply for the school of Dental Hygiene.

The dental hygienist's work is highly specialized and constitutes an important phase of the dental profession, and which continues to gain recognized status in the field of dentistry.

Lt. Roger Paine Praises Red Cross Services

Lt. Roger Paine

Caught in a burst of gunfire from a Viet Cong ambush as he led his patrol on a "search and clear" operation in the Mekong Delta last June, Lt. Roger Paine, 24, of 1241 Solano Ave., Albany, was severely wounded in his right leg.

"I could see the man who shot me; he was using a captured American gun at almost point blank range," Lt. Paine recalled. "I rolled down into the ditch, which was probably the only thing that saved my life."

His radio operator, also hit, managed to throw his instrument to Paine as he fell, enabling the Lieutenant to call for assistance. The wounded men were evacuated by helicopter.

After five long months of hospital treatment, Lt. Paine is back at home anticipating a day in the near future when the plaster body cast he is wearing can come off, and he will be able to rejoin his Company in Vietnam.

"While I was in the hospitals I was very much pleased with the work of the Red Cross. It is doing an exceptional job for the men," the young lieutenant reported.

Beside him as he spoke was a well-traveled ditty bag of the type the Red Cross fills with comfort items to send hospitalized servicemen overseas. "About the first thing I remember after I 'came to' in the field hospital at Long Binh was a Red Cross lady giving me this," he said. "When they brought me in I didn't have anything with me—they'd even cut off my uniform. I had a three-day growth of beard, and that shaving gear came just at the right time!"

Men in combat zones are not permitted to carry any personal belongings that might aid the enemy in interrogation, Lt. Paine explained, so the ditty bags are extremely welcome gifts. "I've noticed that Roger still use his," his mother, Mrs. Raymond Paine, remarked. "Maybe he's just a little sentimental about it."

Qualified as a Ranger by special training in guerilla tactics, Lt. Paine was first assigned to instruct new recruits at Ft. Riley, Kan., and later at the 9th Infantry base near Saigon. As an officer with deep concern for the well-being of his men, he had high praise for the communications and family welfare services given by the Red Cross.

"If one of my men was needed at home he could depend on the Red Cross Field Director to help arrange an emergency leave and get him there in a hurry," the lieutenant said.

"The Red Cross does much to relieve anxiety by keeping the fighting man in communication with his home and by helping his family solve their personal and financial problems while he is away," Lt. Paine noted.

Commenting on the work of Red Cross Recreation Aides and Clubmobile Girls, he said: "They're great morale builders—a lot of fun to have around. Anything that helps relax the tension really helps out and is certainly appreciated."

Of the fighting men in Vietnam he had this to say: "The impressive thing is that those boys—many of them two year draftees—have more morale and more sense of obligation and duty than any I've seen. They're there to do a job and they know what it is."

Lt. Paine is a graduate of Albany High and attended Humboldt State College. He was a student at UC Berkeley when he enlisted and plans to make the Army his career.

What's New

Between the Covers

During the Christmas season, the Albany Library suggests an alternative to sit-ins, mill-ins, teach-ins, and etc.-ins. Give some thought to the no-room-at-the-inn story and have a family read-in.

On display and available for loan are colorful new books plus the popular classics of Christmas theme.

For children: 46 Days of Christmas, a cycle of old world songs, legends and customs; Told Under the Christmas Tree, stories selected by the Association for Childhood Education; Story of the Wise Men; The Animals' Christmas; Three Kings of Saba; The Christmas Sky, theories astronomers have advanced about the star that guided the Wise Men; Christmas in Noisy Village by Lindgren; Away in the Manger by Nussbaumer, a story of the nativity; Christmas Eve by Hurd; The Night Before Christmas by Moore, a poem that always brings delight; Christmas Everywhere by Sechrist, Christmas customs of many lands.

For adults: Gifts From Your Kitchen; Party Decorations for Christmas; Modern Treasury of Christmas Plays; Christmas in the Good Old Days; Gift Wrapping; World's Greatest Christmas Stories.

From the record collection: Christmas Festival by Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra; Christmas Cycle (Gregorian Chant); Song of Christmas by the Norman Luboff Choir; Christmas Music of the Baroque; Christmas Songs by Dorothy Meadows; Child's Christmas in Wales by Dylan Thomas; Christmas with the Mormon Tabernacle Organ and Chimes.

Merry Christmas from the Library Staff and Trustees!

Fire Plug

Don't let fire provide the red in your red-and-green decorating scheme this Christmas.

Holiday fires happen largely because of carelessness stemming from the very activities and surroundings which form part of the Yuletide tradition: a harried mother will leave her young children alone while she does some last-minute gift shopping; a busy father with postpone disposing of gift wrappings and evergreen decorations that become dangerously dry; a family will leave lights burning all night or while they are away.

Fire Plug asks that all persons use the simple rule of common sense during the holiday season with regard to fire safety in the home.

Fire Plug wishes all a very merry Holiday Season.

Most home fires can be prevented if proper measures are taken. But it is a proven fact that not all fires will be prevented. The best thing you can do for the safety of your family and yourself is to firmly believe that a fire will at sometime strike your home. With this in mind, you and your family will better understand the importance of being prepared: the importance of forming a fire exit plan.

This plan should show the safe way out of each room in the house. It would be preferable to have two exits from each room. After the plan is made, you should...

—Hold fire drills to keep the exit plan fresh in everyone's mind.

—Familiarize the family with the operation of every lock or latch on all the doors or windows and screens in the house.

—Make sure everyone in the family knows the location of the nearest fire alarm box and is able to use it properly. Everyone should know the telephone number of their fire department.

—Explain how keeping all doors closed will contain a fire in a small area, allowing more time to get out.

—Instruct each member on the proper procedure he should use in getting out.

—Designate a safe spot outside as an assembly area.

If fire should strike and you find smoke seeping in under the door of your room:

Don't panic—try to make everyone in the house aware of the situation by shouting and beating on the wall. Then feel the top portion of the door. If it is hot, DO NOT OPEN THE DOOR. The hot gasses or flames would burst through almost like an explosion. If it feels cool, brace yourself against the door, place one hand high up on the edge of the door so you will feel the temperature when you open it. Then open it just a crack with the other hand. If it feels too hot, or smoke puffs in and you feel pressure against the door, close it fast. If the "other side" of the door passes these tests you MAY be able to escape that way. If not, leave it closed and try the window. If you cannot escape by the door you must leave some other way.

Windows MAY be the answer. If the window can't be opened, break it with a chair, dresser drawer or any other large object. Be careful. With the same large object, scrape off the jagged pieces of glass and place a blanket, coat, towel or other material over the sill for further protection. Then carefully climb out. Do not jump—back out feet first on your stomach. If the of the foot is too high children to reach, they shown how to push an the window in order to escape. If the window is some from the ground, hang from the sill then drop, the drop be too far, some of rope ladder should be available in the room. those in the room are using the rope. An older son or invalid could be expected to slide down a or 30 feet. If possible, should occupy room on ground floor. In such ladder should be kept close by in order to the window. Once you are out of the STAY OUT. Carry on

To Our Friends:

As the Holiday Season approaches our thoughts turn to the true meaning of this happy time.

During the course of the year and in the midst of events, we tend to overlook the important friendships that are the real basis of all business relationships.

And so it is that we would like to set aside the routine of business and express our sincere hope that your Holiday Season will be Joyous and Happy and that the New Year will bring Good Health and Prosperity to You and Yours.

With Sincere Best Wishes,
ARTURO
